

Key points

- The decision to step back and transfer the farm is significant for the family and farm business
- Clarity around expectations of family members is an important first step

Advice & preparation

- Seek advice from your expert team as early and as often as required
- Be prepared to put in some time and effort to talk to ALL family members and work through the various options

- A co-ordinated team focused approach can streamline the process

Take home message

- Find out what you and your family want, what is possible and plan out how to make it happen.